

Approach

Laboratorio Permanente was founded in 2008 by Nicola Russi and Angelica Sylos Labini. The studio is based in Milan and has been commissioned projects worldwide. Laboratorio Permanente develops projects that integrate innovation and a contemporary expression with a profound understanding of history and contextual thinking. The studio has participated in many international design competitions and won the Honour Mention for the Golden Medal for Italian Architecture in 2012.

CONSULTING

Urban planning consultancy for OMA - Rem Koolhaas for the Bocconi Urban Campus. International Competition by Invitation.

Consulting for TEEM (Tangenziale Est Esterna Milano) for the landscapes projects coordination along Milan's new Eastern Ring Road.

2009

Consulting for Metrogramma architecture studio for the Master Plan for the new housing area "Comasina" in Milan.

Consulting for the Planning Office of the Municipality of Milan for the development of local strategies for the design of the Plan of Government of the Territory. The consultancy work has primarily developed around the development of the city through projects at a local scale. The upshot was a map in which zones are no longer delineated according to administrative borders but rather on the basis of social and cultural identity patterns. These areas have been called Local Identity Nuclei (LIN). 88 LINs were identified each with its own set of critical issues but also potential for development.

Architectural Consulting for Sylos Labini Ingegneri Associati for the competition project for the restructuring of the tobacco factory in Bari. 1st prize.

Consulting for Metrogramma architecture studio for the general view of the urban form and dynamic equalization of the PGT in Milan.
